February 20th - February 24th

Monday, February 20th--- Student Holiday---NO SCHOOL

Parents,

We had a rainy day on Friday, February 17th. Please know that I appreciate your patience as we worked diligently to get your children safely to the appropriate car. With that said, it was still a bit chaotic. We are working to streamline a plan in the event it is raining during dismissal time (which will happen). Please note that your child's normal means of transportation will remain the same on a rainy day UNLESS you request a change of transportation for that particular day. Student safety is a priority for me and my campus as I am sure you understand. Friday posed some confusion with all the rain, cars, and parents coming in and out of the school to take their children; therefore, we will be working as a campus to implement a more effective and efficient dismissal plan.

Thank you,
Tara Bailey

Upcoming Events:

Author Katie Klise Visits: Friday, February 24th

We are "Dying to Meet You" Kate Klise! Ever since we read your Texas Bluebonnet nominated book Dying to Meet You (43 Old Cemetery Road #1) we just can't get enough of your stories! You have literally written books for all ages (picture books, chapter books, and nonfiction books)

Our young students laughed so hard when reading Little Rabbit and the Meanest Mother on Earth! Our older students cannot wait to get their hands on Till Death Do Us Bark! Many of her books have won several awards. Please visit her at <http://www.kateandsarahklise.com/>.

Kate shows young children how a simple idea can become a book, and how a homemade book is always the perfect gift to make for the holidays. When presenting to older students (grades 3-6), Kate focuses on the writing process: where she gets her ideas, how she writes her rough drafts, why the art of rewriting is so critical, and—yes. Kate explains the classic elements of storytelling, including the importance of sending characters on journeys.

To take a closer look at her books, please visit the Tuscany Heights Library.

Leader in Me (Lighthouse School) Night: Tuesday, February 28th 6:30pm

You are invited to join Tuscany Heights in a first annual "Leader in Me" event! We have a long range goal to become a Leader in Me/ Lighthouse School. With your help, we are building student leaders. Come one, come all....

We are excited to introduce a new leadership model for our students at Tuscany Heights as we become a "Lighthouse" school, leading the way for others to follow. The Leadership model that we are teaching is based on Stephen Covey's book, The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People. We use a children's version of the book, The 7 Habits of Happy Kids, to teach the 7 Habits, which are: 1)Be Proactive, 2) Begin with the End in Mind, 3) Put First Things First, 4) Think Win Win, 5) Seek 1st to Understand, and then to be Understood, 6) Synergize, and 7) Sharpen the Saw. This leadership model is a bit of a paradigm shift for many of us, and it may be for you, too. The premise is that all children are leaders – not just a few. A child may be a leader in a number of different ways. One might be a leader in scholastic achievement, one might be a leader in good behavior, and one might be a leader in compassion toward others. Each child will be encouraged to find his or her areas of strength and be a leader in the class in that area. As a faculty and staff, we will be looking for ways to give meaningful jobs to students so that they can develop their natural leadership abilities. From our curriculum, we learn that a leader is someone who makes good choices, has a plan for their life, gets along well with others, and uses their talents and strengths to solve problems.

The old leadership model that many of us grew up with is one in which there is one leader who is in control of the classroom. The teacher performed that role, and everyone else did what the teacher said to do. In the Leader in Me model, every child is given a leadership role in the classroom and is encouraged to practice the 7 Habits of Highly Effective People every day. We encourage you to come to our Parent Night to learn more about the 7 Habits, and how your children are using them to become our next generation of leaders.

If your child is not a leader for this event, we still encourage you and your child to come and participate. You can help us find the strengths and join us in our efforts to support your child in leadership roles. This process is a 3 year plan for Tuscany Heights, and we hope that all of our students will become leaders that everyone can learn from, even myself.

KINDER ROUND-UP Date: Wednesday, March 7th 8:00 a.m.

Bring your 2012-2013 Kinder student to Tuscany Heights! We will meet in the cafeteria first where the students will be greeted by volunteers to work with them on a special craft while all parents are invited to meet the Kinder Teachers. All parents will meet in the library with all of the T.H.E. Kinder teachers and hear all the fun Kindergarten information. This will not be the time to register, but a great way to get to know the staff and the Kinder expectations.

Registration will be March 26th!

Pre-K registration will begin the first week of August!

Environmental Awareness Contest: Wednesday, March 9th Deadline
