

Tuscany Heights Elementary

February 6th - February 10th

Parents,

This is the month to let those that you care about know how much they mean to you. Please know that Tuscany Heights treasures the relationships we have with all of our students and parents. We couldn't do all the things we do without the support you give us. Thank you! Happy February!

*Thank you,
Tara Bailey*

Upcoming Events:

KINDER ROUND-UP: We are currently working with the district to determine the date for our Kinder Round-up. More than likely, it will be in March, but we are working around a few other events. As soon as we have a date, I will communicate this to our community.

There will be a staff member present during this time to answer any additional questions you may have before and/or after viewing the PowerPoint. If you have further questions, please contact the school at 210-407-8200. If you are unable to attend this session, please see our webpage to view the PowerPoint.

Author Extraordinaire!

February 24, 2012

We are "Dying to meet you" Kate Klise! Ever since we read your Texas Bluebonnet nominated book Dying to Meet You (43 Old Cemetery Road #1) we just can't get enough of your stories! You have literally written books for all ages (picture books, chapter books, and nonfiction books)

Our young students laughed so hard when reading Little Rabbit and the Meanest Mother on Earth! Our older students can not wait to get their hands on Till Death Do Us Bark! Many of her books have won several awards. Please visit her at <http://www.kateandsarahklise.com/>.

Kate shows young children how a simple idea can become a book, and how a homemade book is always the perfect gift to make for the holidays. When presenting to older students (grades 3-6), Kate focuses on the writing process: where she gets her ideas, how she writes her rough drafts, why the art of rewriting is so critical, and—yes. Kate explains the classic elements of storytelling, including the importance of sending characters on journeys.

To take a closer look at her books, please visit the Tuscany Heights Library.

If you would like to pre-order one of her books to be autographed during her visit, see the list of her books on the order form on the attached page. All prices include tax. Supplies are limited.

Please make checks out to Tuscany Heights Elementary

Orders must be received by Thursday, Feb. 2
